

of a deceased brother, Clinton M. Schwartz, who died on December 5, 1960. Clinton's children are Violet V. Decker, Ruth Naomi Manning and Donald M. Schwartz. My brother Edward was also survived by children of another deceased brother, Ernest T. Schwartz, who died on May 23, 1943. Ernest's children are Helen L. Barrett, Betty J. Castle, Barbara Ann Walters and E. Thomas Schwartz. There is still another deceased brother, John S. Schwartz, who died on August 13, 1947, and he was survived by a son, Jeremiah M. Schwartz, and a daughter, Margaret Ann Schwartz.

Q. Are any of the heirs of your late brother, Edgar L. Schwartz, unmarried?

A. Yes, they are all married except six.

Q. Are all of the heirs of your late brother, Edgar, of age?

A. Yes.

Q. Are all of the heirs competent?

A. No.

Q. Which is not competent?

A. Margaret Ann Schwartz.

Q. How old is Margaret Ann Schwartz?

A. She was born on April 4, 1940.

Q. Will you describe generally the physical and mental condition of Margaret Ann?

A. Margaret Ann has been handicapped from birth. She was born what is termed as a "mongoloid." She has not developed normally physically. Her head is oddly shaped. She has not developed normal balance and movements. She is able, however, to feed herself, but mentally she is regarded as an idiot with scarcely no mentality.

Q. Did she ever attend public school?

A. No. By reason of poor health of her mother, at an early age she was placed in the home of a friend, where she was cared for until she was approximately four years old, when she
